

GREATER PROTECTION FOR VICTIMS IN SERIOUS CASES OF HARASSMENT

In serious cases of harassment, such as those involving hurt or threats to safety, the PHC will refer the matter to the Police for investigation.

Where the respondent is charged and convicted of a relevant offence against the victim, this can satisfy certain evidential requirements for a PO. This helps to expedite the grant of a PO against the respondent.

Upon successful conviction in criminal proceedings, some evidential requirements for victims to obtain PO will be deemed satisfied
